Know How To Recognize a Scam

Be vigilant if you receive, either by telephone, mail, text message or email, a fraudulent communication that claims to be from the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) requesting personal information such as a social insurance number, credit card number, bank account number, or passport number.

The CRA will never:

- Send email with a link and ask you to divulge personal or financial information;
- Ask for personal information of any kind by email or text message;
- Request payments by prepaid credit cards;
- Give taxpayer information to another person, unless formal authorization is provided by the taxpayer;
- Leave personal information on an answering machine.

If you receive a call saying you owe money to the CRA, you should call CRA directly or check My Account on the CRA website to be sure. Never respond to these types of communication and never click on any links.
