

Policing in Pitt Meadows

July 2019

'It only takes minutes for a hot car to become deadly.'

Think twice before leaving your loved ones in your vehicle this summer.

In the time it takes to run a quick errand, the interior of vehicles can heat up fast - making it intolerable and even deadly. It's never safe to leave children, pets or elderly people alone in a car for any length of time, even when the windows are down.

If you see an animal, child or elderly person in distress in a parked vehicle, here's what you can do:

- Call police, RCMP or the BC SPCA hotline at 1-855-622-7722 as soon as possible;
- Note the license plate, vehicle colour, make and model and ask managers of nearby businesses to page the owner to return to their vehicle immediately.
